Reminder

This Friday, January 27th is a make-up day for the snow day on January 9th! It is important for your students to be here since we are starting new material this week for third quarter!

Report cards go home soon, so if I have any concerns I will be contacting you in the next week in order for you to not be blindsided by your students' progress. We have been conducting middle of the year reading level testing and our class has grown a lot in reading fluency and comprehension since the beginning of the year!

Thank you for your support with homework- the reading fluency practice is really paying off!!
